Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

I. Species 1, drawn to a method of processing raw mass spectral data, comprising the step of calculating, for the given calibration standard, relative isotope abundances and actual mass locations of isotopes corresponding thereto; specifying mass spectral target peak shape functions centered within respective mass spectral ranges; performing convolution operations between the calculated relative isotope abundances and the mass spectral target peak shape functions to form calculated isotope peak cluster data; and performing a deconvolution operation between the measured isotope peak cluster data and the calculated isotope peak cluster data after the convolution operations to obtain the at least one calibration filter, classified in class 702, subclass 85.

II. Species 2, drawn to a method for analyzing mass spectral peaks corresponding to mass spectral data obtained from a Mass Spectrometry (MS) instrument system comprising the steps of: applying a weighted regression operation to mass spectral peaks within a mass spectral range; and reporting regression coefficients ms one of integrated peak areas and mass deviations corresponding to one of nominal masses and estimated actual masses, classified in class 702, subclass 189.

III. Species 3, drawn to a method of processing raw mass spectral data, comprising the step of: obtaining, from a given calibration standard, at least one mass spectral peak shape function; specifying mass spectral target peak shape functions centered at mid points within respective mass spectral ranges; performing a deconvolution operation between the obtained at least one mass spectral peak shape function and the mass spectral target peak shape functions; and calculating at least one calibration filter from a result of the deconvolution operation, classified in class 702, subclass 85.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35

U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
